Tallis Scholars Summer School

Join us for an exhilarating week of music making immersed in glorious renaissance choral music with Peter Phillips and members of the Tallis Scholars. The beautiful campus setting of St John's College at the University of Sydney, Australia provides a delightful backdrop for this rich musical experience.

TSSS is dedicated to exploring our great heritage of renaissance choral music, and to developing a performance style appropriate to it, as pioneered by the Tallis Scholars. The course is open to singers of all nationalities with good sightreading skills, aged 16 and over. We work on concert and service repertoire in a myriad of small and medium sized groups, with opportunities to set up your own groups, and to try new repertoire. TSSS is an intensive singing experience – and enormous fun too!

"Absolutely brilliant"

"One of the most incredible musical experiences of my life and one which I will never forget"

"I've never seen such devotion to helping others understand and make music"

"As a choral director, I benefited from observing the great variety of effective rehearsal techniques, approaches to the interpretation of Renaissance polyphony, and well-grounded vocal warm-ups."

Alexander Productions

Alexander Productions aims to reinvigorate and expand the interest and celebration of vocal music in Australia. Alexander Productions are proud to present the Tallis Scholars Summer School in Sydney. One of the most beautiful and cosmopolitan cities in the world, with a flourishing early music scene, Sydney in mid-summer offers the ideal setting for the first Tallis Scholars Summer School in Australia.
